DISCUSSION AND CORRESPONDENCE

MORE DATA ON THE HISTORY OF THE DOLLAR MARK

PRIVATE correspondence carried on since the publication of my article on the evolution of the dollar mark in the Popular Science Monthly for December, 1912, has brought to my attention some new material and a few minor corrections, which seem worthy of publication. I may say at the outset that the new material does not modify the conclusion I had reached, viz., that the modern dollar mark descended from p^s, the Spanish-American abbreviation for "pesos." As a first correction, my former statement that in Argentina, $ is placed after the numerals, thus 65 should be modified by inserting "usually" or "frequently." In the newspaper La Prensa, published in Buenos Aires, the $ usually follows the numerals in the short advertisements, but usually precedes the numerals when they are arranged in columns. Again, I said that the $ occurred in the Hawaiian edition of 1845 of Warren Colburn's "Mental Arithmetic," but the corresponding secretary of the Hawaiian Historical Society kindly informs me that the
